You may have noticed that we've been incorporating some new features into the Clearinghouse in an effort to make the site more interactive. Let us know what you think about:

Article sharing. It is now much easier to share articles on the site with friends and colleagues. Next to articles on the site, print, PDF, and email buttons allow users to directly forward or print articles without having to copy and paste the URL address into emails.

Rating. Site visitors can also rate the material available in the Clearinghouse. At the top of most articles on the site an interactive scale (Poor.....Best) allows site users to provide feedback about the usefulness of materials.

RSS feeds. RSS feeds have also been added to the site which allows site visitors to subscribe to receive new alerts about what has been posted to the site.

Display adjustments. Site visitors can easily adjust the way the site is displayed on their computer, including the size of the text and the width of the page, with buttons (A+ A- R II < > ) at the top of every page.

Registering. Visitors also now have the option to register on the site which allows them to easily submit news articles, events, and links directly through the site to be posted after review.

We hope these features make the site a more dynamic place to visit! Let us know of any other improvements you'd like to see by emailing contactus@rlch.org.
